

FLOOD DANGER GROWS: RIVER GORGED TO NELSON

DIXON THEATER OPENING IS SET FOR MARCH 15

Beautiful, Luxurious Building is Nearly Completed Now.

The opening of the new theater building on the evening of March 15th, will mark an important epoch in the social and business life of the community, and will give to Dixon a magnificent institution of splendid architectural beauty, which is furnished lavishly and luxuriously.

The theater is owned entirely by citizens of Dixon, and every stockholder is entitled to credit for the assistance which he has given in making the institution possible.

A most agreeable surprise is in store for those who have not already viewed the inside of the building. All will admire the beauty of the foyer, the richness and elegance of the theater room, and the superb arrangements which have been made for the comfort of patrons. The attractiveness of the theater will guarantee patronage extending over a considerable portion of northern Illinois, and will bring to the city many people who will be furnished genuine happiness, wholesome enjoyment, and refreshing entertainment.

Harmonious Whole.

The interior of the theatre is brilliantly colorful and picturesque, and the best talent obtainable has been procured to skillfully combine all of the appointments into a harmonious whole.

The arrangement has been carefully prepared for the fastidious as well as for those of popular taste, and is peculiarly adapted to the grandeur suitable for a playhouse. The Telegraph predicts that the Dixon Theater will be one of the most enjoyable and successful institutions of the city, that every patron of the theater will receive a full measure of pleasure, comfort and happiness and that the stockholders will be well repaid for the investment which appears to have so wisely made.

Governors to Argue Waterway Protect in National Convention

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 1.—A debate on the St. Lawrence Greater Waterway project and a number of addresses by prominent shipping men formed the program for the opening sessions today of the seventeenth convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

In the debate, regarded as one of the features of the convention, Governor Nathan L. Miller, of New York, was scheduled to speak against the St. Lawrence project, while Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, and H. H. Merrick, of Chicago, were listed as the affirmative speakers.

In addition to the rivers and harbors convention, four other waterways organizations here this week to consider policies affecting new marine legislation. These are the Mississippi Valley Association, Middle West Merchant Marine Committee, South Atlantic States Association and National Merchant Marine Association.

Gas Escaping from Mendota Holder Was Ignited By a Torch

Accidental ignition of escaping gas from the big holder of the I. N. U. Co. at Mendota last night caused considerable excitement about the gas plant there until the reservoir could be lowered to a point which brought the holder under the water, thus extinguishing the blaze. In making a repair of a broken steam pipe a hole was accidentally knocked in the holder, and the escaping gas was ignited by a torch in the hands of a workman.

LENTEN SERVICES.
Special Lenten services will begin this evening at 7:45 o'clock at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The subject will be "True Fasting" and a cordial welcome is extended to all.

Church Will Go to Gallows at 4 P. M.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, March 1.—Harvey W. Church, convicted of the murders of two automobile salesmen, will be hanged at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Sheriff Charles W. Peters announced. Chief Justice Kiekham Scanlan entered the final order of execution yesterday and supreme court or executive clemency is all that can save Church. The customary time for executions at the jail here is at day break, but it was explained that as Church is in a state of semi-coma it will make little difference to him what time he is executed.

March, month of winds, is welcome because spring begins the 21st.

As the Lenten season prevails, few social affairs are held in March. Few holidays occur this month. The most important is St. Patrick's Day, March 17.

March 4 will mark a year's administration under President Harding. Before 1752 A. D., March was the first month of the year in the Roman calendar, the legal year beginning on the 25th.

The month was dedicated to the Roman god, Mars.

COUNTY ORGANIZED TO SEE THAT LAWS ARE ALL ENFORCED

Fred Lawton, Palmyra, is Elected President of
New Organization.

County organization will be an important factor hereafter in the Anti-Saloon League's campaign. Active work will be done prior to primary elections. It has dawned upon the league officials that in order to have a strong organization behind the proposition of law enforcement, it is necessary to enter into a primary election campaign. The league will get behind candidates whom it believes stand for law enforcement. That was the action taken at the meeting of the league held Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist church. The league will extend its primary activities in the congressional and legislative districts. Candidates for congress and candidates for the legislature will have to stand an acid test, or they will not be endorsed by the league.

District Superintendent George McGinnis of Chicago, the league declared that the league will quit activities when the wets quit and not before.

Mr. McGinnis was introduced at the Tuesday afternoon meeting by City Attorney E. E. Wingert, who filled the position of the presiding officer. Commissioner J. J. Armstrong being unable to be present at the meeting. In his introductory remarks Mr. Wingert took occasion to declare that Dixon was a well regulated city. The city officials see to it that the violators of the law are speedily punished. Supt. McGinnis declared that there are two big items in the program of the league.

Point No. 1—Election of men to office who will vote dry laws.

Point No. 2—Election of men who will vote for law enforcement.

Organize Every County.

"In order to do this," declared Mr. McGinnis, "it is necessary to organize in every county in the state. We want men in county office who will see that the laws are enforced. In Lake county 90 per cent of the law violators are foreigners and 70 per cent of the 90 per cent have made no effort to take out naturalization papers."

"The league must and will take an active part in the county primary campaign, as well as in the congressional and legislative campaigns."

Elect County Officers.

The league began its county organization by electing the following county officers:

President—Fred Lawton, Palmyra township.

Vice President—Attorney E. E. Wingert, Dixon.

Secretary—Mrs. Fred Lewis, Amboy.

Treasurer—Frank Fordham, Dixon. Executive Committee—A. D. R. W. Aschenbrenner, Bradford township; Editor R. J. Dean, Ashton; F. D. Lehman, Franklin Grove; Rev. J. J. Burrows, Paw Paw; State's Attorney M. C. Keller, Dixon.

Other appointments made were: Committee on Resolutions—Chair-

DRAMATIC DEBATE ON LAW ENFORCEMENT IS GIVEN LAST EVENING

Need of Public Interest in Subject is Clearly Shown.

Much interest and enthusiasm was manifested at the meeting held last evening by the Law Enforcement League at the Methodist church. The church was well filled with people from nearly every town in the county. Ashton and Amboy sent large delegations. Franklin Grove was well represented. District Superintendent George McGinnis of Chicago, was the principal speaker. His subject was, "The Task Before Us." Mr. McGinnis reviewed the early history of the country, especially the time when the constitution was drafted. He declared that the liquor traffic had caused considerable trouble even in the days of Washington. He cited the "Whisky Rebellion" in western part of Pennsylvania, where Washington had to assign troops there to quell the disturbance.

He declared that the liquor traffic had always been against law and order.

He declared that it was the duty now to create public sentiment behind the law.

He declared that a special effort was being made to punish the bootleggers in Lake county, this state. State's Attorney Miller had already assessed fines amounting to $60,000. And after the expenses of trial, office, etc., had been deducted, he turned nearly $50,000 into the school fund of the county.

Foreigner a Problem.

He declared that the one big problem now was the relation of the unnaturalized foreigner and the country. He says the foreigner is a violator of the law purely through ignorance of the law.

He declared that the "wets" tell us that we should bring back beer and light wines in order to raise more revenue and in that way we could, in a large degree lower the taxes. He showed by figures that during the era of the saunas taxes had been increased.

Mr. McGinnis closed his address with a strong appeal to the people to make an effort to nominate and elect dry men to the legislature and to congress.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the evening meeting was the dramatic debate between O. G. Christau and J. W. Langley, who discussed the question, "Can the Law Be Enforced?" Mr. Christau handled the negative and Mr. Langley the affirmative side of the proposition. The debate at times grew very interesting. Mr. Christau filled the role of state's attorney and Mr. Langley was one of the citizens who had become thoroughly disgusted because of the failure of the state's attorney to enforce the law.

Mr. Langley had the best of the contest during the first part of the debate, but soon the tables turned for when the state's attorney showed him that he wished to enforce the law, but the people showed no interest, and did absolutely nothing to aid the officials in the enforcement of the law.

The debate closed by both contestants declaring that the only way to enforce the law was for the officials and the public to co-operate.

Adopt Resolutions.

Rev. A. C. Petre, pastor of the Congregational church at Amboy, chairman of the committee on resolutions submitted the following resolutions which were adopted:

Whereas, We all recognize that we are now in, perhaps, the most crucial time in the history of law enforcement.

And, Whereas, we recognize the fact that law is being grossly violated for the purpose of creating sentiment against the dry law.

First, That we, the citizens of this district, pledge anew our loyalty and support in the enforcement of law, especially in the stamping out the liquor traffic.

Second, That We encourage loyalty and support to the entire Constitution. Be it further resolved that we extend to the ladies of this church our hearty thanks for their generous hospitality; And it is also resolved that we extend our appreciation to the speakers whom the Anti-Saloon League has so kindly furnished to make this convention a success.

(Signed: A. C. Petre, O. E. Struck.)

The music for the evening was furnished by the Men's choir of the Methodist church. Rev. Jesse M. Tidball, pastor of the Presbyterian church, opened the meeting with prayer. In the absence of Mayor Mark D. Smith, City Attorney E. E. Wingert presided.

Over one hundred persons attended the banquet of the Law Enforcement League, given last night at the Methodist church.

District Superintendent George McGinnis introduced the toastmaster, City Attorney E. E. Wingert. In the absence of Rev. John A. Simpson, pastor of the Baptist church, Rev. A. S.

D. H. S. QUINTET OFF TO TOURNEY TOMORROW MORN

Meets Belvidere High
in First Contest
Thursday.

The Dixon high school basketball squad, under the direction of Coach Bowers will leave tomorrow morning for Rockford, where the boys will compete in the northern Illinois district basketball tournament. The Dixon team's first game will be played at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening, when they meet the Belvidere high school team, the contest being the second of the tournament.

Coach Bowers has been working hard with the team the past several days in an effort to bring them to the standard they displayed against the Clinton, Ia., team two weeks ago, and from which they slipped in their game against Sterling here last week. If the boys play the kind of basketball ball of which they are capable their coach has no fears of their ability to make any team at Rockford "step along"—but if they play as they did against Sterling last Friday, well that's a different thing.

465 TEAMS IN CONTESTS

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, March 1.—Arrangements were completed today for the Illinois high school championship basketball district tournaments, scheduled for March 2, 3 and 4, in twenty-nine cities in the state.

Entry lists were closed with a total of 465 schools booked for competition in the twenty-nine simultaneous tournaments, according to an announcement, of C. W. Whittem, of DeKalb, manager of the play.

Teams surviving the elimination play of the district matches will meet in sectional tournaments, four in number, beginning March 13, from which winners will be placed in the state tournament in direct play for the title in matches on March 17 and 18.

Championships in both A and B classes will be awarded. The schools are automatically classified for the tournament, according to enrollment, larger institutions carrying the A banner.

District tournaments will be held at the following cities:

Alton, Aurora, Benton, Bloomington, Bridgeport, Canton, Centralia, Charleston, Decatur, Elgin, Fairbury, Freeport, Galesburg, Hillsboro, Jacksonville, Joliet, Marion, Mason City, Moline, Monmouth, Oak Park, Olney, Ottawa, Peoria, Quincy, Rockford, Taylorville, Urbana and Watseka.

Mrs. Obenchain Will Take Stand; Lawyers for the Defense Say

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, March 1.—The state was expected today to close its case against Mrs. Madalynne C. Obenchain, on trial for the slaying of J. J. Kennedy, broker, her former sweetheart.

Among the witnesses for the prosecution was expected to be Mrs. J. D. Kennedy, mother of the dead man, and shortly after she had told her story to the jury, the state was expected to rest and the defense to begin its efforts to prove Mrs. Obenchain innocent of the crime with which she is charged jointly with Arthur C. Burch.

Seventeen witnesses, it is said, will be summoned to try to impeach the testimony of Mrs. Elizabeth Bessery, a resident of Beverly Glen, near here where the slaying occurred, and of C. S. Sumner, who claimed to have seen Burch in an automobile near Santa Monica shortly afterwards. From the attempt at impeachment the defense is expected to swing to the major portions of its case, reach a climax when Mrs. Obenchain goes on the witness stand, as her attorneys promise she will.

Mine Councils Will Adjust All Disputes

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Seattle, Wash., March 1.—Miners and officials of the Pacific Coast Coal Co., which concern is operating mines at Black Diamond, Issaquah, New Castle and Burnette, have organized a system of mine councils, to take care of wage disputes and all questions arising between operators and miners, company officials here announced today.

Each mine, officials said, was represented by a council made up of miners and the company's representatives, with a central council, on which both sides were represented, meeting regularly in Seattle, for the final disposition of matters coming up in the mine councils.

TAKES NEW POSITION

Ray Wilcox of this city, who for the past seven years has traveled for the Iron Blount company of Clinton, Ia., has resigned this territory. Mr. Wilcox has accepted a much better position with the Field Murdock Wholesale Grocery company of Chicago and will continue to make his headquarters in Dixon.

THIRTY DIXON FAMILIES DRIVEN FROM HOMES: I. C. BRIDGE AND I. N. U. PLANTS ARE ENDANGERED

River Has Risen Nearly Six Feet in 36 Hours; City Undertakes Dynamiting of Gorge at Its Head Near Nelson Bridge; Damage in Dixon Already Totals Thousands

Rock river, ordinarily a peaceful and beautiful stream, is today causing thousands of dollars of damage to Dixon residents and threatens still greater havoc.

Gorged with ice from Nelson to Dixon, the river has overflowed its banks and flooded out at least thirty homes and many business houses. A raise of five feet two inches in the stage of water in the last 36 hours is recorded at Dixon and the river is still coming up. A ten-inch raise was noted at the Dixon hydro-electric plant between 7 and 9 a. m. today. A slight decrease occurred at the gas plant in the west end of the city during the same time, indicating a new gorge somewhere just west of the Galena Avenue bridge.

At three o'clock this morning the ice was gorged clear to the Dixon dam but a few hours later it moved down between the Galena Avenue bridge and the I. C. railroad bridge. The piers at the new railroad bridge were nearly under water this morning and it was feared that ice might pile up against the iron work of the structure.

MAY STOP UTILITIES

Illinois Northern Utilities crews worked all night and all day today pumping water from the basements and pits at the I. N. U. steam plant and at the gas plant in west Dixon. A ten-inch raise in the pits at the gas plant would put out the fires and leave the city with only what gas might remain in the big holder. This morning there was perhaps a day's supply of gas on hand, but the pumps in the pits were more than holding their own and were rapidly taking care of the seepage water running into the pits. Four pumps have been working constantly in the basement of the steam electric plant, and were just about keeping even.

FLOOD BULLETINS

BULLETIN.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the water at the hydro plant at the foot of Crawford ave. had risen six inches since 10 o'clock this morning, a total raise of over six feet since yesterday morning. The state of water below the bridges was unchanged at 2 o'clock, showing that the gorge between the two bridges was closed.

The basements of the Eli Baker building at the corner of Galena ave. and River street, the Music Note Roll company and the Dixon Wholesale Tobacco company, were filling with seepage this afternoon. Water began seeping through the wall about 10 o'clock this morning and employees moved everything that could be damaged.

At 1 o'clock the river between both bridges was solidly packed with pan ice and some heavy ice that had come down. At 2 o'clock the river was closed to the dam with but a small space near the south shore open and this was rapidly filling up.

The water damage is very serious at the Dixon Inn, one of the leading hotels of the city, because, with nearly four feet of water in the basement the furnace fires are flooded and the hotel has been forced to close on account of the cold. Men worked valiantly all night building dykes and bulwarks against the flood and the constant pumping, will keep the fires going. The flooding of the big well under the gas holder may complicate matters.

TO USE FILE DRIVER TO SAVE RAILROAD STRUCTURE
J. W. Skaggs, bridge foreman for the Illinois Central, who supervised the construction of the new bridge across Rock river here and the dismantling of the old structure, is closely observing the movement of the ice here. No grave concern is felt by the railroad engineering department as long as the ice is frozen and jammed both above and below the bridge.

While the ice has piled up until it almost excludes the piers, it is said that there is no pressure because of the gorges below the structure. However should the lower ice go out and the gorge hold at the railroad bridge, a pile driver will be used to crush the ice from the steel under structure.

LOWER AT ROCKFORD.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Rockford, Ill., March 1.—Rock river at this point showed a rise of only two inches this morning. The stream receded seven inches yesterday dropping steadily from the high point reached Monday night.

Store Basements Flooded

In the F. C. Sprout Grocery on North Galena avenue, the water came in during the night and despite heroic efforts on the part of the workers in the store, much of the goods stored there was damaged before it could be rescued. In the Fraza Brothers Garage, Wm. H. Hoon Grocery and the Chiverton Meat Market, there was from three to ten inches of water in the basements and hurried efforts were being made to remove goods.

Thirty Homes Flooded
At least thirty homes are entirely surrounded by water in the flooded areas on the north and south sides of the river and many of them can only be reached by boats as the water is too deep to wade. Their basements are full of water and in a

Mayor Mark D. Smith was appealed to late yesterday afternoon by officers of the Illinois Northern Utilities company to aid an effort to break the ice gorges at Nelson. The mayor at once secured from Superintendent W. E. Wuerth of the Sandusky cement plant, 400 pounds of dynamite to be used in this work. James Devine was given complete charge of the work with a force of men went to Nelson last evening to start dynamiting the gorges which have formed at the Northwestern railroad bridge at that point.

Order Ton of Dynamite.
This work was continuing today, but at noon no change in the stage of water had been noted here. The Utilities company had arranged for the shipment of a ton of dynamite from Peoria to Nelson to be used in the effort to relieve the rapidly increasing stage of water.

Mayor Smith stated this morning that the city would do all in its power to prevent a more serious flood, but was doubtful as to whether the blasting at Nelson would materially assist. The pan ice which has been running heavily since the heavy ice started out last week has jammed against the gorges at Nelson and with the cold weather, has been freezing almost as fast as it lodges, which has served to reinforce the jams and make the work of breaking up the gorges all the more difficult.

Practically no progress in dynamiting at Nelson could be made yesterday, the work not being started until about dark, and it was necessary to wait until this morning until any of the charges could be shot. However, it was reported that the work of dynamiting would be continued throughout the day, in an attempt to dislodge the heavy ice and allow the heavy force of back water to carry out the smaller jams.

Frozen Bank to Bank.
At a point near the west city limits, the river was frozen over solid from bank to bank and no movement has been noted for several days. This continues west to a point below Nelson.

The water during the night rose and fell intermittently. No fall was registered above the dam, where the stage has continued to increase. Between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock this morning the head water had risen 10 inches and was continuing to rise. The turbine plant is out of commission and the water was backing into the turbine pits, making it necessary to disassemble some of the machinery.

Shop to Replace Auto Parts Opens

August Sandmire, proprietor of the Dixon Replacement Parts company today opened up his new business at 107 East First street. The company will handle axles, bearings, gears, wrist pins, spring shafts and gaskets for various makes of automobiles, together with a stock of auto supplies. The new company will co-operate with local automobile dealers and will deal exclusively in replacement parts.

Horse Superior To

TRUCK IN DELIVERY

OF ICE; STATISTICS

Less Costly and More Efficient Dealers Are Informed.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Peoria, Ill., March 1.—Horse and

horse drawn equipment have a decided advantage over any type of

motorized equipment yet devised

when it comes to delivering ice.

Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the

Horse Association of America, said

today in an address before the Illinois-Wisconsin Ice Dealers' Association here.

"Horses will save money for ice

dealers because of lower initial

cost," he said, "less expensive operation, longer life with consequent

less depreciation and because the

intelligence of the horse makes it

possible for him to learn a route

quickly and to move from place to place without attention from the driver. Horse sense saves money for ice dealer and housewife alike, and

helps to make possible that careful,

courteous attention in ice deliveries

which builds good will and permanent prosperity for the ice dealer

involved.

Average cost of a horse in one day for 1919, Mr. Dinsmore said,

quoting statistics worked out by six

large teaming companies, amounted to $2.67, including every conceivable

item of expense, overhead and depreciation—everything in fact, "that the companies themselves and the

auditors could think of to charge in."

These figures, he explained, were based on the cost of upkeep of 392

horses. Similar statistics kept by another firm, employing horses in

delivery service were practically the same, he said.

"The operating costs on auto

trucks of a similar capacity," he said, "including gasoline, oil and

grease, tire, storage, repairs, insurance and taxes, just as was done in computing the cost of upkeep of horses, amounted to a minimum of $5.76 per day up to $7.65 per day on auto trucks comparable with the one horse delivery wagons and from a minimum of $9.29 to $23 per day in the case of 5 ton trucks comparable

with the two horse delivery wagons."

Mr. Dinsmore quoted from statements of managers of more than a score of ice companies in which the horse was preferred to the automobile in the delivery of ice.

First Corn Bought

By U. S. Congress for

Russians Has Arrived

Moscow, March 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The first of the corn

bought with the American congressional appropriation of $20,000,000

reached the actual starvation belt

when a trainload arrived at Tsaritsyn,

in the Saratov region on February 25,

according to advices to American Relief Administration headquarters here.

Twenty-five trains from Novoross-

ysk, in the Black Sea, are now moving to the various hunger points. Six ships have arrived at Novorossysk and two at Odessa since February 6, and the unloading is proceeding satisfactorily.

The steamship Eastern Ocean loaded with seed grain, grounded near

Novorossysk, but the cargo was lighted.

The movement from the Baltic ports

of corn and of rations for the starving

children is being considerably held up by the ice in the Kiel Canal, which prevents movements of ships.

WOODMEN MEET THURSDAY—

The Modern Woodmen will meet

Thursday evening in Union hall.

There will be candidates for adoption

and a large turnout of members is urged.

SEVERE STORM

USHERS MARCH

IN SOUTHWEST

Blizzard in Missouri

and Southwestern

Illinois Today.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Kansas City, March 1.—The southwest faced a continuance today of the snow storm that has reached the proportions of a blizzard in many sections.

Added to a high wind in many places,

low temperatures generally aided in making the storm the worst this section has experienced in recent years,

according to weather observers. Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Northern

Arkansas and Texas are bearing the brunt of the storm, though it has spread to other states.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

St. Louis, Mo., March 1.—March

was ushered in in proverbial manner

throughout the state of Missouri and the southern section of Illinois, according to reports received here. A heavy snowfall, varying in depth from four to eight inches was reported

generally. In the southeastern section of the state, the snow was preceded by a severe sleet storm, which reached over into the extreme southern part of Illinois.

When citizens awoke this morning

they were greeted with the usual consequences of a heavy snow, blocking

of traffic and difficulty in reaching

their places of business and employment. No great disorder in wire traffic was reported.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Peoria, Ill., March 1.—Horse and

horse drawn equipment have a decided advantage over any type of

motorized equipment yet devised

when it comes to delivering ice.

Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the

Horse Association of America, said

today in an address before the Illinois-Wisconsin Ice Dealers' Associa-

tion here.

"Horses will save money for ice

dealers because of lower initial

cost," he said, "less expensive operation, longer life with consequent

less depreciation and because the

intelligence of the horse makes it

possible for him to learn a route

CELEBRATED JOINT WEDDING ANNIVERSARY—

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Winders and daughter, Esther, returned Monday morning from Polo where on Sunday was celebrated the joint thirtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Barnhizer and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Winders at the Barnhizer home. Mrs. Barnhizer was formerly Miss Carrie Winders of Dixon, sister of Edward Winders. Mr. Winders was married to Miss Carrie Rhodes of Pine Creek thirty years ago.

There were four generations of the Barnhizer family represented—David Barnhizer, father of B. F. Barnhizer, being present, Mrs. Clinton Whitmore and daughter, Bettie, of Rockford, Ill. There were a number of out-of-town guests present at the happy occasion, the day proving a delightful one for all.

The house was very prettily decorated with cut flowers including roses, carnations and daffodils.
The table decorations for the bountiful dinner were in pink and white, with two beautiful cakes, made and decorated especially for the brides and bridesmaids of thirty years ago. The day was spent in pleasant conversation and with music and in the receiving of callers who arrived to wish Mr. and Mrs. Barnhizer and Mr. and Mrs. Winders happy returns of the day.

The only regret to mar the happiness of the occasion was the absence of a daughter who resides in California and who could not be present.
The Dixon friends of Mr. and Mrs. Winders and Mr. and Mrs. Barnhizer join in extending congratulations and best wishes for future happiness.

ENTERTAINED FOR MRS. RISLEY—
Misses Genevieve Simonson and Hazel Junk entertained Saturday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Maynard Risley, (formerly Miss Bessie Sworn).

Progressive five hundred was enjoyed. Miss Alice Hicks winning the first prize and Mrs. Clyde Emmert being awarded the consolation trophy.

Dainty refreshments were served, after which little Miss Edwyna Junk gave Mrs. Risley a large basket. This basket was found to contain many useful gifts of silver, linen and china. The occasion proved a delightful one for all present. Mrs. Risley will soon leave for her home in Washington, D. C., much to the regret of her many friends.

WERE GIVEN FAREWELL PARTY—
A company of about thirty-five friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warner of the Bend, one evening, recently, and gave them a happy surprise, a farewell party. Games and music were the diversions of the evening. At a late hour a tempting luncheon was served. After the luncheon, Hiram Eberley made a neat presentation speech and presented to Mr. and Mrs. Warner a gift of beautiful silver teaspoons, from the friends present. Later, the guests departed, wishing the host and hostess prosperity in their new home north of Dixon.

MRS. EDSON ENTERTAINS THURSDAY—
Mrs. L. L. Edson, of 115 Everett Street, will entertain on Thursday with cards.

HASSELMAN-HEPP—
The Peru Herald printed the following article of much interest to Dixon friends:

"A quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning, Feb. 22nd, at 11 o'clock at the Lutheran parsonage in Peru, when Esther Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hasselman, became the bride of Christ Hepp, of Granville. The Reverend M. J. Haferman read the marriage service. The couple were attended by Miss Louise Hepp, sister of the groom and John Hasselman, brother of the bride.

The bride and her bridesmaid were becomingly gowned in traveling suits of navy blue tricot with hats matching. Both wore corsage bouquets of freesias and sweet peas.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the bridal party at the Hasselman home and a reception was held during the day which was attended by about fifty relatives.

The house was prettily decorated in pink and white, and in the dining room there were festoons from the corners to the center of the ceiling, where a white wedding bell was hung. Pink and white carnations were the flowers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hepp of Granville. Mrs. Hepp moved with her parents to LaSalle from Dixon a few years ago. Both young people are well known and well liked, and a large circle of friends extend best wishes for a happy married life. Mr. and Mrs. Hepp left on a brief wedding trip. After March 1st, they will be at home in Granville, Ill.

PROGRAM AT COLONY GREATLY APPRECIATED—
Last evening a company of Dixon people went to the State Colony and entertained with a delightful program of readings and music. Two excellent numbers were given by the Brewster-Preacock orchestra, two beautiful vocal solos by Miss Marjorie Slothower, and two delightful readings by Mrs. Adolph Eichler, and a charming duet by Mrs. Maurice Rosebrook and Mrs. Alois Dogweiler. Each number was enthusiastically applauded. The Golden Rule class of St. Paul's Lutheran church then gave the comedy, "Too Much of a Good Thing," which proved the hit of the evening. This comedy was given several weeks ago at St. Paul's church and proved a great success. Two more enjoyable numbers were given by the Brewster-Preacock orchestra and the program drew to a close. The management at the Colony wishes to express sincere appreciation to the friends who last evening gave their time and talent in entertaining. The programs given there at short intervals are greatly enjoyed and are red letter days to the patients.

REHEARSAL OF COMMUNITY CHORUS FRIDAY—
There will be a rehearsal of the Community Chorus Friday evening at 7:30 at Coppins Hall. Each member may take a guest. Mr. Leo will be here to conduct the singing.

There will be a program following the rehearsal. There will be patriotic and humorous choruses and special numbers by soloists. Mr. Leo will sing. There will be refreshments and a social hour.

D. A. R. MEETS SATURDAY—
The D. A. R. will meet Saturday afternoon with Mrs. A. H. Nichols, 618 Galena avenue. The assisting hostesses will be Mrs. W. D. Drew and Mrs. Will Nixon. Mrs. W. C. McWethy will give a book review on "The Conqueror."

The Regent wishes a meeting of the board fifteen minutes before the general exercises.

BOX SOCIAL WAS SUCCESS—
The box social held at the Ellsworth school Wednesday evening, Feb. 22nd, was well attended. A very nice program was given by the children, assisted by musical talent from the district. The proceeds amounted to about twenty-five dollars. Miss Margaret Lucky of Dixon is the teacher.

MEETING OF AUXILIARY POSTPONED—
The meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's church appointed for Friday, March 3rd, has been postponed in order that the women of the parish may attend the union prayer meeting to be held on that day at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held Friday, March 17th.

DELPHIAN CHAPTER MEETING—
The Delphia Chapter held a meeting in Preston's Chapel on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Social Life of Rome was thoroughly discussed. The next meeting, in two weeks, is to be held at the home of the president, Mrs. W. C. McWethy. A large attendance is desired.

PURCHASED BEAUTIFUL NEW HOME—
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Prindaville, of Palmyra, have purchased the beautiful home of Miss Louise Portenhus at 204 Crawford avenue, and will reside there. Mrs. Lady and Miss Portenhus have moved to 212 W. Everett street.

NEWS FROM DIXON

Snails Too Swift for Slow Terrapins

Capt. Leland's Terrapins were too slow in warming up in Tuesday's match of the volleyball tournament and so dropped another to Capt. Dutcher and his Snails 45-24.

The first two games were easy for the Snails, taking the first 15-3 and the second 15-7. The third was a scrap and a half and was fought to a finish. Neither team was over three points in the lead at any one time and at 14-11 the ball changed hands four or five times before the Snails were able to slip over the 15th point. During this match the players all performed in big league style, recovering the ball many times when it seemed lost beyond recovery.

Snails — Dutcher, capt.; Rawls, Wheeler, Wilson.
Terrapins — Leland, capt.; Schildberg, Forsythe, Rogers, Weiss.
Referee: Tidball.

P. S. The Terrapins give as an alibi for their defeat the buying up of the "Ref" by the Snails. We wondered "how come" he was eating a bar of candy.

GREAT GATHERING OF VETERANS PLANNED IN STERLING THIS JUNE

State Encampment V. F. W. Will Be Held in That City.

(By V. F. W. Press Bureau)

Sterling, Ill., March 1.—Organizations of veterans of all wars of the United States will unite in making the Third Annual State Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Sterling, June 22, 23, and 24, the greatest gathering of ex-service men in the history of the state, it was announced by local committees in charge of the arrangements for the encampment.

"Three big days and two sleepless nights" is what the promoters promise the encampment will be, and all of their plans are being made toward that end. There will be free boxing matches on the streets of the city; six bands will furnish music day and night, and there will also be concerts by the massed bands under the direction of Earl E. Holdridge, director of the Sterling Military Band.

Outstanding among the many free attractions which will provide entertainment for delegates and visitors will be the celebrated Sterling Lady Zouaves, champions of the world on the 10-foot wall, who have also the distinction of giving the longest silent drill ever attempted by any drill team. These skillful young ladies will appear at various times during the three days of activities.

Many prominent speakers The list of speakers for the encampment includes the names of men of national prominence. Senator McCall McCormick; Congressman John C. McKenzie, ranking member of the House committee on Military Affairs; Oscar E. Carlstrom, Commander in Chief of the United Spanish War Veterans; and Gen. George Bell, Jr., commanding the 6th Corps Army Area, U. S. A., have accepted invitations to attend and address the ex-service men; while invitations have been sent to President Warren G. Harding and Gen. John J. Pershing.

Robert G. Woodside of Pittsburgh, Pa., Commander in Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has been invited to attend the encampment, and Department officers of the organization have signified their intention of attending the convention.

To Dedicate Cannon
An outstanding feature of the three-day meeting will be the dedication of Friday afternoon to the United Spanish War Veterans. At that time all activities of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be suspended in honor of the Boys of '98.

THE FACE IN THE MIRROR
Your face, does it wear the contented expression of good health, or are the features drawn and pallid? In the latter case, your story is read by all who see you and what woman of spirit it wants to be pitied for her physical condition? There is a way to get the nervous, tired lines out of your face and the slump out of your body. The use of that standard remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, will strengthen the nerves and tone up the system to resist that excessive fatigue.—Adv.

who will dedicate a bronze tablet from the U. S. S. "Maine" and a captured Spanish cannon, taken by American troops at San Juan Hill.

An attractive spot in the city has been selected for this memorial to the Veterans of the Spanish War and the exercises of dedication will be most elaborate. The arrangements for the U. S. W. V. celebration are in the hands of Gus Hanson, Charles Johnson and Wesley Yingling.

Friday night will be "Cootie Night" with Grand Seam Squirrel, James A. Wright of Chicago, in charge, and a spectacular parade will be a feature.

Every agency in Sterling is co-operating with the Veterans of Foreign Wars in arranging for the encampment. The Sterling Association of Commerce, representing the manufacturing, business and professional interests of the city, have taken charge of the general arrangements to draw at least 50,000 people to Sterling during the three days. An executive committee from the Association, composed of Bert J. Sned, M. D. John, and Major Harold Ward is co-operating with the officers of Bert E. Brown Post No. 326, V. F.

REFUNDING OUR LOANS TO FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS

The problem of Europe's indebtedness to the United States will be a live issue for many years to come,
the National Bank of Commerce in New York believes. Because of the present world-wide business depression, the confusion in international trade, and the financial difficulties of a number of nations of Europe, refunding legislation does not settle the large question of international obligations, the bank says in the March
number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly.

"Foreign governments owe the United States approximately $11,000,- 000,000, largely payable on demand,"
it adds. "On February 9 the President signed a bill creating a commission to arrange the refunding of the obligations. The commission is specifically empowered within three years to refund and extend the time
of payment of the principal or the interest of any obligations of any foreign government arising out of the World War, now held or hereafter acquired by the United States. The converted obligations may not have a maturity beyond June 15, 1947,
or an interest rate of less than 4% per cent. Authority to cancel any part of the indebtedness or to substitute the obligations of one country
for another is specifically withheld from the commission by the terms of the act.

"It seems reasonable to predict that the Commission will extend as lenient
terms to our former allies in the matter of refunding these debts as
are possible under the terms of the present legislation. In the country at large there are two well-defined opinions as to the question of ultimate payment—one for and one against the full cancellation of the debts.

"The cause for cancellation was well stated in a recent address by Mr. Justice Clarke of the United States Supreme Court. The arguments run that for three years the allies fought the central powers
without our assistance. Our advances went to further the common victory and were nothing less than our share in the war, so that in equity
there really is nothing owing us.

"But assuming that the allies can pay—so runs the argument—may it not be a question whether it is to our best interests that they do so?
It is not necessary to demonstrate that our debtors must meet both the yearly interest payments and amor-tizations chiefly by sending goods—
manufactured goods—into this country. The annual interest alone on our foreign credits at 4% per cent, comes to a round half billion dollars. Our favorable trade balance of last year was about $2,000,000,000. If our allies are able to meet their interest obligations, our trade balance will probably show a rapid readjustment during the next few years. The balance may shift to a so-called unfavorable one,
with imports exceeding exports conceivably by as much as a half billion dollars. Such a sudden readjustment
such an influx of manufactured goods
from abroad, could possibly entail serious consequences, prolonging for a long period unsatisfactory business conditions. If, however, our investors should purchase foreign securities on a large scale, readjustment
may be partially arrested. Such are the main points of this phase of the case.

"One of the most forceful of all the arguments of the pro-cancellation
forces is only incidentally moral or economic. They hold that if we press
for the collection of these advances,
we shall in the years to come gain
the reputation of being the Shylock
of international finance. They point to history to demonstrate that the repayment of huge international debts,

whether tribute or borrowings, usually breeds a spirit of mutual distrust, suspicion and ultimate hatred between the parties involved. And they raise the question whether for a nation with a large foreign trade, the possibility of such an outcome is worth the candle.

"Those who wish to see our loans
collected in full present counter arguments. They hold that the war was primarily the war of Europe, precipitated by European imperialism, to which her opponents contributed as well as Germany. Our sole interest was to insure the defeat of Germany
so that in future years we should not have to oppose her alone. We asked no assistance in maintaining
our armies in the line; the funds borrowed from us by our allies to maintain their armies are their just and due obligations; and they should expect to pay them. The cancellation of international obligations is a dangerous precedent to establish. Furthermore, the spoils of war in the shape of land acquisition and reparations
in kind and money have gone
entirely to others; we asked nothing
in this connection.

"On the economic side of the question, the opponents of cancellation
maintain that if our government can collect from its debtors yearly interest of a half billion dollars or more,
our taxes can be commensurately cut down. Lightened taxation is in turn expected to give a decided impetus to business revival. However opinions
may differ as to the positive influence
of taxation upon business activity, all sides will agree that taxation is at the present time absorbing a larger share
of the national income than is desirable.

"In any case it is certain that this refunding legislation does not settle the large question of international indebtedness. The present worldwide business depression, the confusion in international trade, and the financial difficulties of a number of the nations of Europe will make the problem of external national debts
and consequently the general
question of the adjustment of accounts between the nations live issues for many years to come."

BEHIND THE MASK

Psycho-Analysts, now the rage,
work on the idea that every one is a victim of dual personality.

Gentle Dr. Jekyll, when circumstances and situation stroke his fur
the wrong way, becomes violent Mr.
Hyde.

In every human, a battle is going on most of the time between two beings—a good nature and an evil nature.

The evil nature urges the physical body to do a certain thing. The good nature, sitting on the cellar door,
tries to keep the evil one from getting out.

But the suppressed desire continues getting up steam. Often it bursts forth, in a regular explosion.

Then we have a crime, a deed we are ashamed of later, an unreasonably mean act, or a show of bad temper.

After while, good nature gets the murderer into the cellar again. Attonement follows, also remorse,
hand-shakes, apologies.

Strange things go on in our subconscious minds the great subterranean
rivers that generate our emotions, color our dreams and guide our thoughts.

"Something told me not to do it!"
You've heard that often. The subconscious mind is like the horse
which stopped in the darkness where a bridge had been washed away. The driver (corresponding to conscious mind) applied the whip. But the horse wouldn't budge.

This is the process by which we suddenly change our minds at the last minute, after long preparations.
Instinct, or the subconscious mind,
saves the day, keeps us from mistake.

There used to be a bar-room saying
"You can get a man's real number when he's drunk." Alcohol frequently paralyzes the conscious being and releases the subconscious or repressed self.

"Don't pay any attention. He's a good fellow when he's sober." This was said of men with violent objectionable natures but who, by will power, kept their objectionable qualities hidden when not intoxicated.

Too often, it is the good nature
that is repressed. Thus economical men, when intoxicated, sometimes
become recklessly liberal, spending
on a scale that nearly causes heart
failure next morning.

The psycho-analytic craze will teach us a lot of things before the epidemic subsides. One will be, the wisdom of acting naturally—of expressing our real and better selves in exactly the way we want to.

exchange on the mark. That gives the German manufacturer less cream
to skim.

C. E. Herring, American commercial attache at Berlin, predict export price of many German commodities soon will be forced down to same level as other countries.

That remains to be seen.
If it happens, and Germany loses
her price advantage her sales will fall
off. How collect indemnity then?

WEALTH

Here's a man who owns 17,000,000
head of sheep. He is David Clark now touring Canada.

His livestock is scattered about his many ranches in Australia, where he is known as "The sheep king."

This year he expects to ship 75,000
bales of wool to market.

Do you go in for cattle raising,
too? Clark is asked.

"Not to any great extent," says he.
"I have only 14,000 head of cattle."

Clark has achieved real success—
close to the soil.

The things we do in cities are interesting, but not fundamentally important. Few city men live as worthwhile lives as Isaac, the pioneer farmer in Knut Hamsun's "Growth of the Soil."

CHICKEN

Old saying is, no one can eat a quail a day for 30 days. H. J. Jalmar Rapistist missionary in the Congo, hasn't tested the quail theory. But he eats chicken three times a day for two years.

Don't pity Jalmar for monotony of diet.

Pity his wife, who had to plan the meals to make them attractive. She evolved 22 ways of preparing chicken.

No man has a task as difficult as
his wife has in planning meals.
Doubt it? Ask her.

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP

THIN WOMEN MUST AVOID "NERVES" TO GROW
FAT

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

Thin women are usually of a nervous temperament and in this characteristic we find the cause for their thinness, as a rule.

Nervous women expend a great deal of energy in heightening muscular tension, and nervous disturbances quickly react on the alimentary
tract, making it difficult to take or digest sufficient food.

It requires an intelligent persistence in eating regularly more food
than the immediate needs demand to make any noticeable gain in weight
in such women.

An avoidance of all nervous excitement, irritation and great muscular exertion is necessary to adjust the balance between intake and output.

Food must be taken regardless of appetite and often regardless of minor digestive ailments.

It is wise to select foods not rep-
ugnant to the palate and easily digested. Fluids are easy to take when appetite fails. Milk is acceptable in many forms, hot, cold, with added
cream or milk, sugar, or both; in cocoa, or chocolate in sherbets and ice creams; as buttermilk zoolak or kumies.

Fruit juices from sweet fruits or
with their fuel value increased by adding milk, sugar, make agreeable and nutritious drinks.

Raw eggs are good for the thin woman whether taken plain or beaten
up with milk, cream, or fruit juice.

It is not difficult to add to the regular diet several hundreds of calories
a day if the addition is needed, as it is in the case of overly thin woman.

Three glasses of milk added to the regular diet means 500 calories or more. An extra pat of butter each meal about 300 calories a day.

From one to three tablespoons of olive oil after each meal increases the fuel intake from 300 to 900 calories.

Very often women complain that they are too tired to eat. It is now difficult to fatten an overworked person, but even though it is but a slight surplus over the immediate fuel needs, the thin woman should eat.

In time such methods will have favorable effects on the general health
and especially on the nervous system.

LEARN A WORD
EVERY DAY

Today's word is ABORIGINAL.
It's pronounced — ab-oh-rij-i-nul
with accent on the third syllable.

It means—first, native, indigenous,
primitive, original.

It comes from—Latin "ab origine,"
from the beginning.

Companion word—Aborigines.
It's used like this—"The red Indians were the aboriginal inhabitants of America."

I'm just a trifle stiff.
Not much, but just a bit.
You'd never notice if

I'm also growing fat.
Just slightly, here and there;
I'm quite resigned to that
If I can keep my hair!

Age, do your worst to me,
Reduce my nerve and pep,
Until with creaking knee
I halt at every step;
Such minor woes as these
I'll try to grin and bear.
But please—oh pretty please,
Let me retain my hair!

Spare me the fearful fate,
The venom and the gall
Of wearing for my pate

DIDDYEVVERS AND KORSKNOTTS

Long ago a soothsayer had decreed

"And now," said the Magical Mushrooms, "I cannot stay with you, childrens. It would only be a drawback, because no other magic is allowed in the kingdom of the Diddyevvers, nor yet in that of the Korsknotts, except that which they practice themselves.
That is the reason, I haven't any doubt, why Nimble Toes stumbled on the rubber mountain and lost the magic record of Longhead the Wizard."

"Can't we take our Magic Green Shoes?" asked Nick.

"Yes," answered the Mushroom
quickly, "but run and get your gosloshes. Not that the gosloshes will deceive anybody but if anyone tries to get your Magic Shoes the gosloshes will prevent them. Goodbye, now. I'm going. And good luck. When you find the lost record you may bring it to the Fairy Queen's palace and she will summon King Indig of the Diddyevvers and King Verdo of the Korsknotts to hear what the Wizard said.
You see it's this way. The Diddyevvers have perfect bows, but they can't make good arrows, while the Korsknotts have famous arrows but their bows are no better than barrel
hoops. And long ago a soothsayer decreed that after a thousand years
had passed, the ones who had become the handsome would have to give up their secret to the other. Then the fortunate ones would be able to conquer the world."

"Perhaps we'd better not find the lost record then, with the Wizard's
words on it," said Nancy. "The world
doesn't wish to be conquered, I heard Daddy say."

"Well, it might be a good thing,"
said the Mushroom. "But anyway
this only means the world of Fairy Land. There isn't any sense in people fighting for a thousand years."

SOMETHING ELSE TO WORRY ABOUT

AMBOY COMMERCIAL CLUB HEARD TALK BY SWIFT EXPERT

C. D. Harvey Spoke on Reconstruction There Friday Evening.

Amboy, Feb. 27.—The regular monthly meeting of the Amboy Commercial club was held Friday evening in the parlors of the Congregational church with 70 members in attendance. A banquet was enjoyed after which C. D. Harvey of Chicago addressed the membership on the subject, "Some Fundamentals in Reconstruction." The speaker is sent out from the department of Public Relations by Swift & Company.

"There is no quick and easy way to get business back to normal operations. The elements of time, thrift and hard work, common sense, a willingness to give as well as to take will have to play prominent parts in readjustments."

In these plain phrases, Mr. Harvey expressed himself in the opening of his talk before the commercial body.

"We make a mistake to hold the government or individual groups or laws on the statute books or the failure to have adequate laws responsible for the present situation. Because many men have taken this position, confusion is added to our already complicated situation."

"The way out is frankly and fearlessly to recognize that after we had a period of unnatural inflation, we are going to pass through a period of deflation when losses will be taken to offset the large profits that have been made. The history of the world tells us that this is economic law. Away from it we cannot get."

"It will help out a good deal if we can get our great public to recognize that, after all is said and done, we stand or we fall together. There is a lot of careless thinking going on. Some men hold the opinion that one group can be prosperous at the expense of others. Such a condition could exist, if at all, but a short time in the future day in the United States."

"Consider the shoes that you wear. Remember the industries that are involved in getting these shoes on you. There is the leather business, the metal, the thread, the financial system and the transportation. Within each of these great businesses there is a labor problem, a transportation problem and one of finance. On the whole, all of the elements are helped or are hurt by the attitude assumed when a consumer buys a pair of shoes."

"In recent years we have been talking of what the public wants and of public rights. In other days much has been said about the rights of capital and justice to labor. Now the public, as a unit, is beginning to assert its place in the economic order."

"This new emphasis upon consideration for the public is just and proper. One reservation only needs to be made. Will the public inform itself on business conditions? To jump to the conclusion that some one is profiteering because prices are high for a particular commodity is easy. Such an attitude is the simplest one to take. An examination of the facts may show that conclusions are wrong. Will the public make the examination? Information is the important factor."

"The future gives promise. Recognizing the fact that this country is absolutely solvent, remembering that the signs are pointing to improvement, bearing in mind decreasing un-

KIWANIANS ARE TOLD IMPORTANCE OF GOVT. INCOME TAX REPORT

Atty. M. J. Gannon Gave Instructive Address at Weekly Meet.

Attorney Martin J. Gannon, Internal Revenue Collector for Lee County, delivered an interesting address before the members of the Kiwanis Club at the noon-day luncheon Tuesday. Mr. Gannon's interpretation of the "Income Tax Law," his subject, was frank and instructive. He admitted that he did not know much more about the law than many other people, but he was giving the important subject considerable hard study. "The one great difficulty I find," declared Attorney Gannon, "is that our people neglect to read carefully the instructions upon the blanks submitted to them. All citizens of the United States must submit an income tax report. The tax is levied by the government upon salaries and incomes from business. Every married man who has an income of $2,000 or more must make a return."

Mr. Gannon declared that the income tax law was the medium through which the government derived its information concerning business conditions throughout the country.

"It is a fair and just law," declared Mr. Gannon, "but I find that people are not giving the law serious consideration. We revenue officers must check up every man in the county over which we have jurisdiction. Federal taxes have come to stay," said Mr. Gannon.

Honor Amboy Man.

County Judge John B. Crabtree presided at the meeting and George Hawley was selected to arrange the program for the meeting in two weeks. Louis Pitcher submitted a resolution praying that John M. Egan of Amboy be made an honorary member of the club. The resolution was adopted and Mr. Egan will be made an honorary member.

Secretary L. E. Jacobson called the club's attention to the international meeting to be held at Toronto, Canada, next June. He stated that the railroad fare, round trip would be $31.86 and that a lower berth one way would be $5.63. "I believe we should make arrangements to attend that meeting," declared the secretary.

Secretary Jacobson also brought up the proposition of "Ladies' Night." Oliver Rogers suggested that the DeKalb Club be invited and that they give the program for the evening. Chairman Hogan of the program committee was advised to get busy and see what he can do toward arranging for a good, live program. On motion of Prof. Strong, the club decided to invite the DeKalb club and that they give the program.

President Crabtree read a letter from George Shurtleff, governor for eastern Iowa, calling the club's attention to the annual attendance contest, March 6th. Upon the motion of F. E. Cahill it was decided to have a "round-up" meeting next Tuesday.

Rev. Frank D. Sheets, of Freeport, will be the speaker for the luncheon next Tuesday, March 6th. Rev. Sheets is a prominent divine and a splendid speaker. He will have a good message for the club.

The WRONG FACE

By ISABEL OSTRANDER

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

FAL TUDOR, wealthy orphan, returns from reconstruction work in France to recover from a nervous breakdown caused by overwork and the news of the death in battle of her brother.

WILBUR, at her summer home in Sandy Cove, she is met by her aunt, an attractive widow.

MRS. CLARA TUDOR, and the latter's daughter.

LAUREL, who has fallen in love with Fay's rejected suitor.

HARRY CADMUS, the summer colony has been made uneasy by the supposed presence of a "wild man" who is thought guilty of petty robberies the Tudor estate. Fay is frightened by the sudden appearance at the window of a ghastly face with staring eyes. Sheriff Hulce and his visitor.

SERGEANT JOHN BARRY, a New York detective, investigate. Among the arrivals at the summer colony are

KENNETH CLAYTON, wealthy philanthropist who has been attentive to Mrs. Tudor, and

CAPTAIN WARREN, who saw Wilbur fall in battle. Captain Warren explains to Fay that his hip was shattered during the Argonne drive.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"There is a certain operation which will either leave me utterly helpless or restore me to health again, and I am going to hospital tomorrow." He spoke with forced cheerfulness.

"Oh, I shall be thinking of you and wishing for the success of the operation with all my might!" the girl cried softly. "I think if I were able to get about as you do now I would not have the courage to risk such a hazard."

"I did not mean to come to you again until—unless I could come as I was before," he went on. "But being near I could not resist the temptation of a—little chat with you. I was determined not to tell you of my chance to get really well, but you see how your kindness has disarmed me. Please don't come to the hospital, but if all goes well may I—may I look you up once more?"

In the darkness Fay could feel her cheeks suddenly flush and tingle, and a little, uncomprehended warmth and glow settled about her heart.

"I shall be here waiting to see you, Captain Warren, whenever you come." When they reached the driveway Captain Warren paused beside a car that was parked at a little distance from the others, and held out his hand.

"If—if things shouldn't go just right, you must promise to let me know," she begged, "but I am sure I FEEL that they will! So I won't say good-bye, captain, but just 'good night,' until you come again."

He held her hand very tightly for a moment, then stepped into the car and was whirled away down the drive. She stood where he had left her, watching until the light of his car had disappeared around a turn in the road. Then she went slowly toward the house, her brain a whirl and a strange, fluttering sensation within her breast.

"I beg your pardon; did I frighten

when I return you will give me an opportunity to win your love, to make you care!"

"Oh, I should not have listened to you!" Fay cried in distress. "I admire you, I honor you for the splendid things that you have done, and I—I am proud of your friendship, but I could never feel toward you as you wish!"

"Will you tell me one thing truly?" He possessed himself of one of her hands and held it firmly. "Is there any one else? Am I trespassing? Have you found some one else for whom you care?"

Fay shook her head.

"There—there is no one," she said faintly.

"Then I am satisfied." He towered above her and laid both hands gently on her shoulders. "I am willing to take my chance. Oh, my dear, my dear, I shall make you love me!"

"I must not let you go away with that thought, Mr. Clayton. I can never care for you, not in the way you mean."

He smiled.

"We will wait."

CHAPTER IV.

The scene with Kenneth Clayton had taken all the glow and wonder from that earlier meeting with Captain Warren, and Fay felt dispirited and deeply dismayed as she lay awake. She had come to look upon Clayton as a family friend; now all at once he had shattered that point of view and she felt as though he were a stranger.

Soft footsteps nearing her door and a whispered "good night" aroused her from her troubled thoughts. She turned her head as the door opened and Laurel tiptoed in, a shimmering vision in her pearl-beaded gown.

"Goodness! Are you awake yet, Fay?" she whispered.

"I don't feel sleepy," Fay responded.

There was a curious hesitancy in Laurel's tone, the same nervously tense attitude that Fay had observed on the day of her return. "I am glad you aren't sleepy, for there's something that I want to tell you; I wanted to ever since you came home, but I didn't know how you would feel about it."

Fay raised herself upon her pillows.

"Tell me," she said. "Is it something about yourself?"

Laurel nodded as she stepped out of the shimmering gown and slipped a kimono over her shoulders.

"I wouldn't for the world have you think that I had been a deceitful little cat and deliberately set out to take away from you some one you cared for, while you were sacrificing yourself over in France." Her voice was very low, but she raised her head a bit defiantly as she let down her rippling dark hair. "But people can't help changing sometimes; they can't help the dictates of their own heart."

Laurel shivered as she came to LAUREL SHIVERED AS SHE CAME TO PAY FOR HER GOOD-NIGHT KISS.

room, and they seated themselves well in shadow.

"I have never married, as you know," he began. "This is the only house which it has been for several years my habit to visit. When I found myself still anxious to avail myself of its hospitality after your departure for France I fancied that it was only because I admire your aunt for her beauty and charm and more than all, her congeniality as a splendid pal, but now I know the truth. It was because a living memory of you lingered here. I knew it the other day when I stood in the hall and you came down the stairs."

"Mr. Clayton?" Fay rose precipitately from her chair. "Really, I—"

"Please hear me out," he pleaded. "I should not have spoken now, but serious disorders at one of my factories demand my immediate presence there, and I should like to feel before I go that you have at least listened to me. I have no delusions that you love me now, Fay; but I have never failed in anything that I have undertaken, and I cannot fall now in the one thing which I desire more than all else in the world. I ask, I beg of you that

"Whatever are you trying to tell me, Laurel?" demanded Fay. "Some one I care for! I cannot understand."

"It's Harry!" Laurel blurted out. "When you misjudged his motives so terribly you simply killed his affection for you, and you may as well know it! He says that you don't care either, any more; that you told him so flatly at the beach yesterday morning, and I do hope for your sake, Fay dear, that it is true."

"It is," Fay affirmed. "I'd forgotten he was alive until you mentioned him the other day. You don't mean to say that you—you—"

"Yes," replied Laurel slowly. "After you had gone Harry turned to me for sympathy. I did think that you had treated him very badly. Something drew him to me and he saw at last that we had been meant for each other from the very beginning."

She uttered this highly original explanation in a dreamy, ecstatic voice, and Fay restrained a smile.

"I'm very glad," she said soberly. "Harry and I never really care for each other, Laurel, dear; we only thought that we did. I hope with all my heart that you will be happy. Does Aunt Clara know of this?"

"No. You see, nothing was settled until you came back and Harry and I could find out how you felt toward him. He wanted to tell mother tonight, but we couldn't get her alone to ourselves a minute!" Laurel giggled. "Mother must have had a pleasant hour! The Pattersons brought their celebrity with them, that Professor Somebody—or-other who is such a famous chemist and who did marvelous things during the war, and he pinned mother down for ages in a corner of the library. She sent distress signals to me, and I looked everywhere for Mr. Clayton to go to her rescue, but he wasn't to be found and he left without saying good night. Funny, wasn't it?"

Fay did not reply. So this was the first result of that interview on the porch! Trivial in itself, it was significant of the possible difficulties of her situation in the future unless she could immediately convince Clayton of the absolute hopelessness of his cause.

Laurel shivered as she came to Fay for a goodnight kiss.

"It is almost like autumn," she observed. "I believe a storm is coming. Do you think we had better leave all the windows open like this?"

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

REPAIR IT NOW

Leaky roofs, broken chimneys, loose windows, ill-fitting doors and casings will mean waste fuel this winter unless they're fixed at once.

Forethought never costs as much as afterthought. Inspect your house now to see what should be done and then talk to us about it.

Illinois Central System Says Service Is Keynote in Handling Freight

The freight service of the Illinois Central System is founded upon prompt and regular movement of freight and the considerate treatment of patrons' wants by an organization which strives to render a service of satisfaction. We hold those to be the requisite elements of freight service.

The Illinois Central System is among the leading railroads of the country in handling perishable freight. Fruits from the tropics arriving by steamships are moved north from the port of New Orleans in solid trainloads for distribution to marketing centers throughout the country. Domestic fruits and vegetables produced in Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee are loaded at stations on our lines and shipped to principal points throughout the United States and Canada, moving largely in solid trainloads. Vegetables from the Rio Grande valley of Texas move in substantial volume through the Baton Rouge gateway and are handled by the Illinois Central System from Baton Rouge to principal points in the North and East. Solid trainloads of meat and packinghouse products are handled between Omaha, Sioux City and Chicago. Through trains from Council Bluffs to Chicago carry California vegetables and fruits.

Transportation of quality and quantity is an essential for the well-being and development of trade in commodities commonly classed as perishable freight. Without rapid and dependable transportation service consuming centers would have to depend on supplies from relatively nearby points of production, and trade generally would be contracted. The accurate maintenance of schedules is important in handling perishable freight. As an example of the kind of service rendered by the Illinois Central System, it is worthy to note that during the past six months our fast freight trains handling perishable and other high-class freight long distances have made scheduled early morning deliveries 99 per cent on time. A bureau in the office of our car accountant at Chicago receives telegraphic advices of the movement of cars loaded with perishable freight and is able at any time to furnish shippers of such cars or consignees the exact location and probable time of arrival or delivery to connecting line.

Fast merchandise trains are operated out of all the principal cities on the Illinois Central System on schedules which enable specialization in forwarding the freight the same day received.

The Illinois Central System also ranks among the leaders of the railroads in originating coal and lumber traffic. This class of traffic does not require such rapid movement as perishable freight and merchandise, but does require regular and dependable service, which we are enabled to give through a well-equipped transportation plant and special attention to the freight movement. To a large extent these commodities are classified into solid trains and handled long distances intact, thus minimizing detention at terminals.

Not all cars are handled without delay. Delays occur from causes beyond our control—others from causes under our control. The delays, however, are extremely small, taking into consideration the thousands of cars handled daily. A loaded car found delayed is immediately placed in a preferred class, through special carding and notation on waybill, and handled in fast freight trains to avoid further delay and, if possible to overcome that already sustained.

We are continually adding to our equipment in the effort to keep abreast of traffic demands. We own 1,700 locomotives and 69,127 freight cars. Since the return from federal control we have purchased and received 150 locomotives, 1,000 refrigerator cars, 300 stock cars, and 200 flat cars. We have recently placed orders for 2,000 additional gondola cars and 1,000 additional refrigerators.

We are striving constantly to perfect all departments of our service. We realize that our worth to the public is measured by the service we give, and we invite the public to call upon us for any service, small or large.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President, Illinois Central System.

Public Quick to See in New CHANDLER SIX

Notable Car at Low Cost

THE extent to which the public has been educated in motor car values, never had more striking proof than in the instant acceptance of the new Chandler car.

In all sections, urban or rural, the verdict of approval has been unanimous.

Motorists who thronged round the chassis were quick to point out the increased depth of frame, the staunchness of the rear axle, the transmission brake and other features of advanced construction.

Visitors also displayed a surprising ability to distinguish between genuine and solidly built cars, with richest appointments, and those where quality had been subordinated to make a lower selling figure.

Despite depressed conditions, Chandler retail sales for January were the biggest in Chandler history.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which was messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft-brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
